

PARLIAMENTARY.

Toronto, March 26.

Mr. J. S. McDonald asked the Commissioner of Public Works, when the estimates for the State of Government were to be presented to the House, if he had been informed of its being delayed by the House, and his brought down to the House.

Mr. Lomeux said that he could not undertake to speak of the exact day, but that no time had been lost in preparing the estimates.

Mr. McDonald then gave notice, that on Friday, he would move for a call of the House for Monday next, to consider the subject of the said estimates.

Mr. Lomeux then moved the following resolution:—

"That agriculture is one of the chief elements of prosperity and wealth in Canada. That it is important to encourage the settlement of the wild lands belonging to the dominion of the crown. That gratuitous grants of land, ought to be made to the denizens of the soil, to facilitate their management; and by this means to encourage agriculture and foster Commerce and Manufactures.

"That for this purpose, it is expedient to make choice on Upper and Lower Canada, of a tract of land of sufficient extent, suitable for cultivation and accessible by good roads.

The municipal loan fund Act 16, Vict. Cap. 23, was introduced by the Municipalities of Lower Canada to affect the loans to encourage the settlers of land in Lower Canada and assist them in clearing of lands so granted to them for the purpose of settling the country.

Mr. McKenzie moved a resolution in favor of establishing a decimal system of currency, and the House rose when he was speaking thereon.

Toronto, March 27.

On Thursday Hon. Carter reported a bill in relation to discussing the formation of Judicial Circuits.

Mr. Angus Morrison introduced a bill to prevent railway companies from running locomotives on the Lord's day.

Mr. McKenzie moved, the question for nearly the first time, that there shall be one currency, or money of account, of which the dollar shall be the highest and principal unit.

That the public account shall be kept in dollars, cents and mills; and that the coinage be equal in intrinsic value to that of the United States.

He spoke some time in the support of keeping accounts in the decimal, as compared with the present currency.

Mrs. J. A. Macdonald, Cayley and Carter opposed the motion on the ground that the present English unit should largely be retained in a form a currency suitable for the commerce of the whole world. It was, therefore, premature to legislate on such a subject at present, especially two thirds of our trade was with that country, and inasmuch as it was very probable that a decimal would shortly increase with France, where they had a decimal currency with a unit different from the dollar.

Mr. McKenzie was surprised that Mr. Carter had not thought of all these things when voted for Mr. Hincks' decimal system three years ago.

If there were no such a unit on either side, it would be proper to adopt the English currency as it was; but no one intended to do that, or thought it was possible.

He said he wanted to adopt an economical system, and admitted Mr. Cayley was right in his opinion, and intended to cut down the Governor's salary; but now he wanted nothing but his £1200 per annum.

Mr. Cayley thought the feeling in England was very far from being of a character to make an immediate settlement, whereas here everybody wanted to have the system.

The reason why the system had not been adopted at present was, because the Government and the Banks, following them, had not yet adopted it. The only opinion which the law allows, of keeping the currency in dollars and cents instead of pounds, shillings and pence. Delay had been granted last year, and should be asked for no longer.

Mr. Cayley said that delay was now and always different grounds from those of last year. They were then discussing the matter in England, but now they are, and he wanted to have the result of their deliberations.

Mr. J. A. Macdonald said, it was no use to discuss a measure on the country when everybody was liberty to do what he liked. The American coinage was not decimal, but the unit was divided into half and quarter dollars.

Mr. McKenzie read some extract from the speech of several gentlemen connected with him, to show that no inconvenience could arise from the introduction of dollars and cents, and that must be done by the Government, commanding to keep its own account in that currency.

Mr. Cayley said, he would let the matter go, Mr. McKenzie would consent to withdraw the words "dollars, etc., and cents." If that would move the previous question.

Mr. McKenzie having declined, Mr. Brown said he thought the member for Hastings might be right. At Government, early, there was already a law which determined what the unit should be; therefore, the Inspector General had given his own way.

How Mr. Cayley moved the previous question, viz. the same question now put, was on the 27th, 58.

Mr. McKenzie introduced a bill to exempt the tools or implements of any debt or trade or calling, &c., for debt.

On motion of Mr. McKenzie a select committee was appointed to consider whether the same improvement may be made in the provision for the execution of the office of Speaker, in the event of the Speaker's unavoidable absence.

On motion of Mr. Whitney an address was read to cause steps to be taken to recruit from the observatories at Quebec and Toronto, an annual report to the House.

Mr. Holton introduced a bill to amend the Act relating to the inspection of flour and meal.

Mr. J. S. Morrison moved that a committee of seven members be appointed to inquire into the case of Queen or Kelly, and others before the criminal Court at Quebec, which was agreed to by Mr. J. S. Morrison, Mr. Crawford, Mr. Cameron, Mr. McDonnell, Mr. Turcotte, Mr. Atkens and Mr. Loranger, were named for the Committee.

Mr. Cayley introduced a bill for the punishment of the officers of the railway companies contravening the by-laws of such companies.

Mr. Terrell introduced a bill to amend the provisions relating to the performance of the duties of Justice of the Peace.

On Thursday the report of the committee of contingencies as agreed to last evening, in committee of the whole, was considered.

The Ordinance Land Bill was read a third time.

On the motion for the third reading of the Elective Legislative Council Bill, Mr. Terrell introduced a bill to amend the provisions relating to the performance of the duties of Justice of the Peace.

The Ordnance Land Bill was read a third time.

On the motion for the third reading of the Elective Legislative Council Bill, Mr. Terrell introduced a bill to amend the provisions relating to the performance of the duties of Justice of the Peace.

On Friday, he would move for a call of the House for Monday next, to consider the subject of the said estimates.

Mr. Cayley then moved the following resolution:—

"That agriculture is one of the chief elements of prosperity and wealth in Canada. That it is important to encourage the settlement of the wild lands belonging to the dominion of the crown. That gratuitous grants of land, ought to be made to the denizens of the soil, to facilitate their management; and by this means to encourage agriculture and foster Commerce and Manufactures.

"That for this purpose, it is expedient to make choice on Upper and Lower Canada, of a tract of land of sufficient extent, suitable for cultivation and accessible by good roads.

THE DISTANCE OF THE SUN FROM THE EARTH.—A number of tables which prove that the distance between the earth and the sun is increasing annually, and argue from it that the increasing humidity of our Summers and the loss of fertility by the earth are to be attributed solely to the increasing distance of the sun.

Advices from the observations of several countries, we must suppose that the ancients were not mistaken in the estimates which they transmitted to us. In the course of six thousand years from the present time, they assume that the sun has moved away from us only a eighth part of that space which we now enjoy from the earth, and it will then be covered with eternal ice, in the same manner as we see now the plains of the North, where the elephant formerly lived, and have neither Spring nor Autumn.—Portland Transcript.
